

About Inspire

What inspire is about

People ask me what inspire is about; each time I answer that question the answer changes, just like we do, constantly evolving. If I had to pick a few words, I would say "it's letting the internal light inside you shine though, the light that makes you laugh and love and makes you passionate it brings, happiness".

The media knows happiness is what we are searching for. They have been marketing that to us for a very long time and they have done a pretty good job of it. We obsess about our image, we dream for the new car, the bigger house, we buy the shampoos, the shoes, the career, we buy the illusion. But we don't need to buy a new product to bring more happiness into our lives, it isn't that hard to find, in fact it's already inside us. To get there we just need to see the world and ourselves a bit more differently and inspire's role is to support that. We are not here to change you, as you are already beautiful, inspire is here just to support you.

We ask people who come to an inspire event to come with an open heart and a desired wish for each one of us to succeed. Inspire is not a competitive environment, it is a supportive environment. One that cherishes the magic that is inside each one of us, we ask that at all times you always give positive support to each other and to enjoy yourselves.

What inspired me

My mother inspired me to create inspire. She lived her whole life not realising how beautiful she was, when all she needed was a bit of encouragement to believe in herself and follow her dreams. I dedicate inspire to my mother who brought joy to the world.

Sponsor's Point of View

The weather turned out great. I had a quick look around the track and got all the bikes off. The 3 separate areas work well and there was something for everyone.

Some of the ladies looked at me a bit strange when I started them off on the little bikes. I think they understood I needed to gauge their skill level and the CRF70 with a centrifugal (automatic) clutch is just perfect to learn on. There were a few riders present that were really good from the start and were soon flying around the track even getting some air over the jumps.

It became obvious very early on that the CRF230 was the most popular bike. It is a great entry level trail bike and is big enough to allow the riders to stand up comfortably.

The best thing is to see people who were absolute beginners at the start of the day, growing in confidence to go onto the bigger track with all the faster riders. I was really impressed with how everyone improved throughout the day.

It was a rewarding day for Peter Glidden Honda. Ladies don't muck around when they want something and with our continuing support hopefully we will benefit from the experience.

Kaz did a fantastic job of creating a pressure free atmosphere. We could have handled a few more riders but I thought the numbers were good for the first attempt. I will look forward to the next one and hope to see you all out trail riding somewhere.
